Reception Round-Up

3November 2017

Thank you to the parents who came to the phonics workshop and we hope you found it useful in supporting your child with their phonics and understand more about the Phonic Fairy! Any questions please don't hesitate to ask!

Here is the link to the correct pronunciations of the sounds requested in the meeting. https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=BqhXUW_v-1s

Please send in evaluation forms!

Phonics Focus

This week we have learnt the sounds n and m, We have spent a bit longer on them this week as they can be quite tricky to discriminate between to two. We were firefighters for n... n,n, nee, naw. We made jam sandwiches for m. M,m, munch munch! Can you find any items starting with these sounds?

What has been happening in Johnson class?

What a busy past few weeks! The week before half term we started with week with a dangerous curriculum day with Mrs Shears, the children learnt all about Autumn. The children went on a Autumn walk, they made conker pictures and even animals using their Autumnal finds! We also had a day finding out about Diwali and the Rama and Sita story. We hope you saw our Rangoli patterns welcoming Lakshmi in to our classroom!

Reminders and pleas!

The children have been excited to share their reading! We are now on the look out for any parent helpers who would like to come and hear reading, if you would like to please let me know. Now the children have their reading books please could they come in to school everyday and please indicate in the book if they have been read so we can change them.

Family Sharing

The children have been working hard to practise their scissor skills, maybe they could practise at home, I'm sure they could start to help to wrap Christmas presents!

Maths Time

We are continuing our work on number recognition and matching amounts to numbers. The numbers are getting bigger each week! We are also starting to combine two amounts together to make addition calculations.

Picture of the week...

Wow Moments

Please tell us about something your child has done to make you feel proud this week so that we can put it into their Learning Journey. Feel free to bring in drawings / photos too!
