History workbook week beginning 8th June 2020

Complete this history work in your exercise book. Remember to focus on using a high quality style of handwriting and presentation. When you have finished working in your exercise book, use the answer booklet to check your work. You will be able to post a copy of this work to me on the Class DoJo page. I'm looking forward to seeing it and rewarding your efforts.

In History, we will begin to learn about the lives of Queen Elizabeth I and Queen Elizabeth II and how they have contributed to national and international achievements. We will also compare aspects of life during their reign, identifying similarities and differences between the different time periods.

Lesson 1

Monday 8th June

Queen Elizabeth I

Can I compare two different monarchs?

A monarch can be a king, queen, emperor, or empress. Monarchs generally reign for life and then their son, daughter, or other relative becomes the next monarch.

Can you remember these monarchs? We have already learnt about our monarch, Queen Elizabeth II. Now we are going to find out about Queen Elizabeth I.

Watch this clip about Elizabeth I. Try the quiz too.

To show people she could rule the country well, she had portraits painted of her as strong, mighty and rich, just as a queen should be.

Here are four of those portraits:

1. Elizabeth I in her coronation robes.

2. Elizabeth I was always seen dressed in fabulous outfits that reflected her wealth and power.
3. The Armada Portrait, which Elizabeth I had painted after her victory over Spain.

4. In this portrait Elizabeth I is standing on a globe.
Which portrait do you think makes Queen Elizabeth look most powerful?

The portrait that I think makes Queen Elizabeth I look most powerful is portrait number _____.
I have chosen this portrait because _________________________________.

This is a portrait of Queen Elizabeth II in her coronation robes.
Can you compare it to the portrait of Queen Elizabeth I?

I think that these two portraits are similar because _________________.
Some of the things that are different are _____________________.

Lesson 2
Tuesday 9th June

The Coronation of Elizabeth I

Can I learn more about what happens at a coronation and compare two different events?

The word coronation means: a ceremony where a king or queen is officially given the crown of the country. It is almost like a marriage ceremony between the monarch and their country.

Read the text below:

Her coronation on 15th January 1559 was an impressive, expensive celebration. Elizabeth gladly received flowers and congratulations from ordinary people in the street – just like our queen does today. A carpet was laid down for Elizabeth to walk on to Westminster Abbey, and people cut out pieces as mementos of the day.

Watch this clip about Elizabeth I. It is a modern film that shows what the coronation might have been like.

The coronation service for the British monarch has been the same for around 1000 years. The King or Queen (Sovereign) makes an important promise called the Coronation Oath. After the anointing, the Sovereign is given the orb and scepters before having the crown placed on their head. These are known as the Crown Jewels.
Draw and label the Crown Jewels.

The orb represents the World and the cross represents God. The monarch usually has two scepters – one with a cross and one with a dove. The crown is placed on the monarch’s head.

Queen Elizabeth I (1st) was a famous Queen who ruled England, Ireland and Wales from 1558 to 1603. The time that she was queen is called the Elizabethan Age.

Elizabeth’s father was King Henry VIII (8th) and her mother was Anne Boleyn. She became queen when she was 25 years old.

In those days, queens got married so their husband could help them rule, but Elizabeth didn’t want a husband. She said she was married to her country and ruled for 45 years!

When Elizabeth I was queen it was very exciting - there were new ideas about religion, wars with Spain and English explorers discovered new places. England also began to buy and sell things much more in different countries and Sir Francis Drake was one of the first men to sail all the way around the world.

It was a dangerous job to be queen and many people tried to harm Elizabeth. In 1586 her cousin, Mary Queen of Scots, plotted to harm her but Elizabeth found out and had her executed (killed) instead!

Elizabeth was 69 years old when she died and was buried in Westminster Abbey next to her grandfather Henry VII (7th).

Did you know...?

Elizabeth loved learning and could speak six languages; English, French, Italian, Spanish, Greek and Latin!
Three facts that I have learnt about Queen Elizabeth I are:

1. ____________________________________________.
2. ____________________________________________.
3. ____________________________________________.

Lesson 4

Thursday 11th June

Queen Elizabeth I

Can I discover, through research, more about Queen Elizabeth I?

Elizabeth I loved to wear very elaborate clothes. She wore a stomacher made from whalebone, and a farthingale round her waist to give shape to the heavy skirts. She wore silk stockings and was said to own eighty red wigs. Her sleeves were often the most decorative and valuable part of her wardrobe and were attached with ties. Elizabeth I used preparations to whiten her skin and wore extremely thick make-up. The jewels on her clothes were often symbolic and were also a sign of wealth.

Glossary:

farthingale: ____________________________________________.

stomacher: -__________________________________________.
Can you draw or collage an elaborate outfit that Queen Elizabeth I might have worn? You could use pencil crayons, paint, and bits of wrapping paper or wallpaper...
